Robin BRIGAND

Robin Brigand, born on 13 August 1981 (Lorient, Fr.)

Post-PhD: ARHEOINVEST Platform, University Al. I. Cuza, Iasi (Ro.)
Chrono-environment laboratory (UMR 6249), Besançon (Fr.)

Research area

My researches concern the relationships between human societies and their environment during the 8 last millennia. They focus mainly, but not only, on North of Italy and Eastern Romania. I am specialised in archaeogeography, spatial archaeology and ethnoarchaeology.

My current main research themes are :

Spatial organisation of Moldavian Neolithic and Chalcolithic societies (Eastern Romania)

Socio-environmental studies about centuriated landscapes (Northern Adriatic)

Ethno-archaeology of salt springs (Eastern Romania)

Underwater archaeological investigations (France)
